SPECIAL NOTE

This document was prepared primarily by stereoscopic analysis of high altitude aerial photographs. Wetlands were identified on the photographs based on vegetation, visible water, and other features. The document is a summary of the Inventory of Wetlands and Deep-Water Habitats of the United States (An Operational Draft). Cowardin, et al., 1977. The aerial photographs were taken during the summer of 1976. The time of year and season when they were taken. In addition, there is a margin of error inherent in the use of the aerial photographs. Thus, a detailed study of the wetland boundaries established through photographic interpretation. In addition, some small wetlands and other features by dense forest cover may not be included on this document.

Federal, State and local regulatory agencies with jurisdiction over wetlands should be consulted to determine a different manner than that used in this inventory. There is no attempt, in either the design or products of this inventory, to determine the legal status of wetlands. Federal, State or local government or to establish the geographical scope of the regulatory programs of government agencies. Persons who are responsible for the regulatory programs within or adjacent to wetland areas should seek the advice of appropriate Federal, State or local agencies concerning specified agency regulatory programs and their functions that may affect such activities.
